

TARIFF PROTESTS ARE NUMEROUS

EUROPEAN COUNTRIES DISLIKE OUR NEW LAW.

Complain at Washington — Foreign Governments Point Out Why They Disapprove of the Dingley Schedules — Say Each Country's Trade Will Suffer.

Washington, Aug. 2.—In a late number of the Congressional Record containing speeches on the tariff-conference report is a speech by M. N. Johnson of North Dakota, in which he makes a compilation of the protests received by the state department from the representatives of foreign governments against certain duties imposed in the Dingley tariff bill while that measure was pending. Nearly all these communications revert to the commerce between the several countries and the United States. They insist that the new tariff will retard that commerce, and some of them intimate that it will result in decreasing the demand for American goods. Some of the ministers disclaim any intention to interfere in the internal affairs of the United States, but make the representations for the benefit of the commerce between the countries. Some suggestions are made that the injury to be done the treasury of the United States on account of the imposition of the proposed duties will be considerable.

Minister Brun of Denmark calls attention to the fact that the tariff on American goods going into Denmark is very favorable, and that his government views with a great deal of apprehension the pending tariff bill, and the rates especially. He says that the admission of Danish products on a favorable tariff would be only a fair return for the rates granted American products.

Baron Fava, the Italian ambassador, protests against the duty on Italian oranges and lemons, which he says would prove very disastrous to the Italian trade in these fruits.

Count Lichterfelde, minister of Belgium, says the discontinuance of exportation of Belgian cement would result disastrously to grain exported from the United States on account of the higher rates that would be charged because vessels would have to sail one way in ballast.

The Turkish government protests against the duty of $1 a pound on crude opium and thinks the revenue of the government will suffer, but says that in case it does not the cost of the drug used for medicinal purposes will be increased greatly to the consumers.

J. B. Pioda, minister of Switzerland, says that the new tariff bill will be disastrous to three principal industries of Switzerland, Swiss embroidered goods, silks, watches and clocks. He says his government "appeals to the sentiments of friendship and equity of its sister republic."

Sir Julian Pauncefote sent two very brief communications, one in December, 1896, informing Mr. Olney that the fishery board of Scotland protested against the high rate on cured herrings and that at the request of the marquis of Salisbury he represented to the United States government that the high rates which the Dingley bill imposes on salt mackerel and other cured fish would cause grave injury to the fishermen on the west coast of Ireland. This note is dated June 18, 1897.

The protests of the German ambassador and the Austrian minister against the countervailing duty on bounty export sugar have been published already.

The consul-general of Greece protests against the rate imposed upon Zante currants and raisins.

Fifty-three Irish members of the British parliament join in a letter to President McKinley saying that the duty on cured mackerel and herring caught on the west coast of Ireland will work a great hardship to the Irish fishermen, and praying the president to secure a modification of the rates in the Dingley bill.

The protest of Argentine against the duty on hides and wool and of Japan against a number of duties has been published already. China made a protest on lines similar to those of Japan.

Strike Is Now On.

New York, Aug. 2.—The general strike of the Pantmakers' Union, a branch of the Socialistic Trades Alliance, went into effect Sunday in the 250 shops in the Greater New York district. Under the present system they are able to make only $1.50 for a week's work. Under the old schedule, which they want restored, the operators made from $10 to $12 a week. There are nearly 3,000 operators out, and in consequence of the strike 5,000 finishers are idle.

Rains Have Damaged Crops.

Waterville, Me., Aug. 2.—The farmers of the central and northern counties claim the rains of this season have damaged crops to an extent to be computed in the hundreds of thousands of dollars. The hay crop alone is nearly a 50 per cent loss and roughly estimated at $500,000. In the eastern part of Maine the potatoes, corn, barley and apple crops failed the worst. Building operations and work in brick kilns and lime quarries are at a standstill as a rule.

Cavin Shoots His Partner.

Avilla, Ind., Aug. 2.—John W. Cavin and Robert Clear have been partners in large sawmill interests here. They have had frequent disagreements, and as the culmination of a quarrel Cavin Sunday drew a revolver and fired two shots at Clear, one of the bullets inflicting a painful though not dangerous wound above the left ear. Startled at the thought of his crime Cavin ran a short distance, and, drawing a razor slashed his own throat from ear to ear. Cavin's death is momentarily expected. He is about 50 years of age and unmarried.

Colonists Going to Texas.

Marquette, Wis., Aug. 2.—The Grand Falls Irrigation company owns 300,000 acres on the Pecos river in Texas. Capitalists of Stoughton, Madison, Deerfield and other southern Wisconsin towns are interested in the company. Several hundred colonists, it is said, are going there from various parts of Wisconsin. Ex-Gov. Hoard has purchased 600 acres on the Pecos, and will start a creamery.

Andrews May Stay Where He Is.

Providence, R. I., Aug. 2.—It is currently reported and believed to be true that members of the faculty of Brown University have prepared a formal protest to the corporation against the action of that body which led to the resignation of President Andrews.

Revival in Diamond Trade.

New York, Aug. 2.—A great revival in the diamond trade is predicted here. It is said that within the last few days from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 worth of diamonds have been ordered in the European markets.

Thinks Sherman Should Resign.

Rome, Aug. 2.—The Agenzia Italiana declares Sherman's resignation is necessary, seeing his diplomacy is irritating all Europe.

GOLD SEEKERS TOLD TO WAIT FOR SPRING

STARVATION AWAITS THOSE WHO START NOW.

Is No Way to Get Through—Experienced Miner Warns People to Wait Until Spring—Difference Between the Klondike Country and California — "Will Starve Like Rats."

New York, Aug. 2.—The World publishes the following letter from J. R. de Lamar, who is probably the greatest gold mine operator in the United States, and who understands every principle of placer mining. He says:

"I have just arrived in New York from Nevada and the Mercur mines of Utah, and I must say that I am surprised at the wonderful interest that the Klondike placer mines have excited everywhere. I never saw anything like it.

"The mines are wonderful, but probably not so wonderful as represented. I have seen experienced men from the Klondike region—men I know—and I have thoroughly probed the facts about the country.

"It is absolutely foolish to start for Alaska now. Men who have spent several years there tell me that the Yukon river is now closed—closed not by ice, but by drought. No steamers can go up to Klondike after the middle of July. The only other way to go is afoot over Chilcoot Pass.

"Now, if you start that way, you will have to walk 2,500 miles, and each man has to carry all his own provisions for a year, his belongings and traps. There is no well-defined trail. You have to walk over moss on an average three to four feet deep, through which one sinks from six inches to several feet every time he steps.

"There are blizzards which last several days. Then it is necessary to dig holes in the snow and moss and stay there until the blizzard is over. This moss has the same malarial effect as new dirt has in a dugout.

"The Klondike can never be compared with California, because living there is so different. After the rich diggings in California were worked out the miners took the next rich placer dirt, and finally the quartz mines. Only the richest klondike ground can be worked, Alvin Pierce, who is just from there, tells me, because wages are $15 to $20 a day, and sometimes much higher.

"The miners are now paying $10 a day for board. He tells me also that provisions are sure to be short there this winter on account of the great rush of people and the utter lack of supplies. Board will be higher than the wages. I have given this subject much consideration and have gleaned much information, and I believe it is like throwing money away to send parties and expeditions there now."

Joseph Ladue, the owner of Circle City, on the Yukon, writes from Schuyler Falls, N. Y.:

"I read in the World an article written by Joaquin Miller saying that there would be no starvation in the Yukon Valley this season, and that the steamers Alice and Belle would make five trips up the Yukon, taking 450 tons each trip. Mr. Miller does not know what he is talking about. It is a positive fact that the Alice and Belle will not make more than three trips up the Yukon and will not take more than 450 tons to each trip, and out of that 450 tons the food will not average over 350 tons. That I am positive of. People will starve like rats if this is allowed to go on. I beg of you to contradict that statement and warn all against going this season. There is one thing which you must remember. Gold you cannot eat, neither will it buy you food when there is none in the country."

Spalding Found Guilty.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—Charles W. Spalding, ex-president of the Globe savings bank, was on Saturday found guilty of embezzling $25,000 from the University of Illinois. To-morrow he will be taken before Judge Horton and sentenced under the indeterminate sentence act to imprisonment in the penitentiary for a term of from one to fourteen years. It is expected his attorneys will at once apply for a writ of supersedeas until the judgment can be passed upon by the Supreme court. If the writ is granted the ex-banker will not be taken to the penitentiary until November, when the state expects to have the sentence confirmed by the Supreme court.

Two Big Fires at Ottawa, Ill.

Ottawa, Ill., Aug. 3.—The Pioneer Fire-Proof Construction company's plant, one of the largest of this kind in the world, was partially destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon, entailing a loss of $100,000. There is only a partial insurance. The fire is thought to have been of incendiary origin. The large grain elevator of J. N. Shuler was burned to the ground in the morning, the loss being $6,000; insurance $3,000. It is now thought this building also was set on fire.

All Slain by Natives.

London, Aug. 2.—A dispatch to the Times from Cape Town says a report has reached there that the Portuguese have been badly routed in the Bileni district, north of Delagoa Bay. The natives declare that not a Portuguese is left alive.

LEADER OF A STRIKE IS UNDER ARREST

OPERATOR D'ARMIT LODGES COMPLAINT.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—All the quarry men in northern Illinois went on a strike today to enforce an advance of twenty-five cents a day.

Pittsburg, Aug. 2.—At noon today all was quiet at D. Armit's mines. Several thousand strikers had gathered but violence was not anticipated. Early this morning the strikers at Camp Determination were aroused, and 500 men ordered to march to Sandy Creek and 500 to Plum Creek mines. The marches began with President Patrick Dolan heading the force, going to Sandy Creek. After proceeding a short distance, Dolan was served with a writ charging him with riot and unlawful assembly at the instance of Thomas P. De Armit. For a time great excitement prevailed among the marchers, but Dolan quieted them by saying that he would be all right and soon join them. He was then taken back to the justice's office and the marchers proceeded. Secretary Warner, Organizer Cameron Miller and other leaders are included in the writ.

A citizen of Turtle Creek stands ready to furnish bail for Dolan, and it is presumed he will be released. The incident has caused a very ugly feeling among the strikers, and if the other leaders included in the order of arrest should be stopped in their work, decidedly vigorous action will likely be taken by the miners.

HOPEFUL IN WEST VIRGINIA.

Joseph W. Rea says the strike will receive many additions there.

Fairmont, W. Va., Aug. 2.—"There is a surprise in store for the operators of this region," said Joseph W. Rea last night. "Inside of forty-eight hours there will be several additions to the men already out."

Rea says he is highly elated over the prospects, and thinks West Virginia will yet come out. He says he intends to call on Special Judge John W. Mason, who granted the injunction, and ask what he means. He does not know whether the injunction attempts to keep him from holding meetings in the public roads or not. There are more signs of a general laying down of picks than there has been since the strike began. None of the operators have contracts of more than ten days in length, and the men say if they do not come out the other miners will go back to the 25-cent rates.

To Restrict the Sheriff.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 2.—Over half of the miners employed by the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company did not work Saturday. The fact has given much hope to the strikers, and they are redoubling their efforts.

Secretary Warner says the miners' officials have decided to bring an action in equity against Sheriff Harvey A. Lowry, asking for an injunction restraining that official from executing the provisions of the proclamation. He said the proclamation was in violation of law, and they would go into court to have that point settled. "I believe the proclamation is illegal," said Warner, "and we are going to try and find out if the sheriff has a right to interfere with a peaceable assembly."

To Close the Colfax Mine.

Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 2.—The Bloomington miners, all of whom are numbered among the strikers, probably will visit the eighty-five miners at Colfax, twenty-five miles northeast of here, and, perhaps, the few miners at Chenoa, for the purpose of inducing them to quit work. The Colfax mine has been worked throughout the strike, and its output, which is considerable, has been taken by the Illinois Central, with the exception of a little for local use. The Chenoa mine has sold nearly all of its product to the threshers.

March Upon Odin.

Carlyle, Ill., Aug. 2.—The miners employed in the Breese shaft held a meeting Saturday night, and decided to remain out. They left last night for Odin. They claim their force will be augmented by crusaders from Trenton, O'Fallon and Belleville, and will thus be able to assemble in Odin several hundred strong. They are determined to cause a shutdown of the mine there and are preparing for a long siege. A great show of strength may eventually cause trouble, as the operators are not disposed to yield to their demands.

For the Defense of Washington.

Washington, Aug. 2.—Fort Washington, twelve miles down the Potomac river from the capital, is the first modern defense in the new fortifications plan of the army to be garrisoned, a battery of the Fourth Artillery having been recently stationed there. Across the Potomac one mile away the government has completed an immense pier, extending far out into the shallow waters of the Virginia shore, for the use of the army in handling the great guns.

AT THE GATES OF HAVANA.

Cubans Raid the Suburbs of Gen. Weyler's Capital.

Havana, July 31, via Key West, Aug. 2.—Sunday morning 200 insurgents, under command of Major Andres Hernandez, entered Las Puentes, a suburb of Havana City, and took possession of the place. They plundered the military station in which the Spanish kept money for the troops and sacked several stores, among them a drug store, from which they took all the medicines. The four large grocery stores in the suburbs were ruined and the goods they contained were scattered to the four winds. Five other stores in the outskirts were also ransacked. Two hundred other insurgents, under General Baldomero Acosta, were near the suburb to check the Spanish column, which is operating around Havana, in case it should come to help the garrison. The Spanish surrendered after a short resistance, in which they lost a captain.

INJURED IN A WRECK.

Passenger Train on the Missouri Pacific Runs Into a Freight.

Eldorado, Kan., Aug. 2.—The Missouri Pacific passenger train which left here for Kansas City at 10:30 o'clock Saturday night, crashed into four loaded freight cars which had been left carelessly standing on the main track at Yates Center, resulting in a wreck that will cost the lives of two trainmen.

Engineer Jasper Clover and Fireman Cal Rowan, both men of family living in Eldorado, were fatally injured. Both were found in an unconscious condition lying beside the track. Clover was dismembered and terribly scalded and Rowan had one foot severed and was terribly cut and bruised. Clover and Rowan were sent to a hospital in Kansas City, where Clover died at midnight.

Serious Charges Against Boer Officials.

London, Aug. 2.—The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph at Johannesburg says that grave charges are being formulated against the Boers. The first is that of supplying the Matabeles, before and after the Jameson raid, with large quantities of guns and ammunition bearing the stamp of the Transvaal government. The second charge is that several high Boer officials, while the reformers were in prison, accepted large sums of money aggregating $35,000 from the reform committee or from friends of its members.

Men Supplanted by Machines.

Muncie, Ind., Aug. 2.—Ball Brothers, the largest fruit jar manufacturers in the city, are sending out notices to nonresident blowers that their services will not be needed during the season that begins with the expiration of this month, and a sensation has been caused among the men, as their places are to be filled with the patent blowing machines which have just been perfected to blow glass for the first time in history.

Senator Quay Going to Hawaii.

J., announced to a number of his intimates his intention of making an early trip to the Hawaiian Islands, to make a careful study of the country, its prospects, and the advantages or disadvantages which would accrue to this country through annexation.

Plan of Nebraska Silver Men.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 2.—On September 1 the three silver conventions of the populists, democrats and republicans will be held here. The three bodies will act separately, but will nominate the same candidates. After the meetings a mass convention will be held. The meeting will be the occasion of a national address to be issued by Mr. Bryan to the advocates of the silver cause throughout the world.

Comment of German Papers.

Berlin, Aug. 2.—The Kreuz Zeitung says that the denunciation of the commensariat treaty with the German Zollverein is Great Britain's first step toward the protectionist system. The Tageblatt, the Vossische Zeitung and the National Zeitung, however, all agree that it is quite out of the question for Great Britain to adopt protection.

Raises the Tax Assessments.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 2.—The state board of tax commissioners have completed the assessment of railroad, express, sleeping car, telephone and telegraph companies, and, instead of reducing the assessments, have so fixed the basis of taxation that the aggregate will be in excess of the total for last year, when it stood at $155,000,000.

Will Not Accept Reduction.

Phillipsburg, N. J., Aug. 2.—The American Sheet Iron Company strikers held a meeting Saturday night, at which the committee reported the result of its conference with Superintendent Danby. The company offered the men work at cut wages, but they refused to accept this proposition, and decided not to part from their stand.

Want Wages Restored.

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 2.—The working potters of this city held a mass meeting and decided to ask the manufacturers for the restoration, within sixty days, of the 12½ per cent cut in their wages made in 1894. The men claim the increased tariff rate on pottery made by the Dingley bill justifies their request.

GAVE THE MURDERER A PLEASANT TRIP

Ripon, Aug. 21.—Detective Fero arrived here this morning with Julius Zuelke, murderer of Farmer David. Fero showed Zuelke the sights of Oshkosh yesterday and allowed him his freedom. Anette Davis, the daughter of the murdered man, recognized Zuelke. The murderer wanted to shake hands with her, but she shrank away in terror.

Racine Militia On a Spree.

Prominent citizens from various parts of the state and from Chicago were there, also members of the Racine County Old Settlers' society, Racine county bar, city council, police force, Business Men's association and other organizations.

PUDDLING SCALE SETTLED.

Manufacturers and Amalgamated Association Committee Agree.

Youngstown, Ohio, Aug. 2.—It was daylight Sunday morning before the iron manufacturers and the puddlers of the Amalgamated association conference committee agreed on a scale for puddling. There were twenty-five puddlers on the Amalgamated committee of 100, and the puddlers had the say about accepting or rejecting the proposition directly affecting them. The puddlers made several attempts to effect a compromise and obtain $4.25 a ton for puddling, but the manufacturers positively refused to recede from their demand for a reduction from $4.50 to $4. When the puddlers held their last secret meeting to consider the matter the vote stood 13 to 12 in favor of taking the whole reduction, and this portion of the difficulty was at an end.

MANY FRIENDS HEAR REV. DR. ANDERSON

AGED PASTOR ADDRESSES HIS FORMER FLOCK.

Powerful Sermon on the Divinity of Christ—Rev. E. H. Pence 11 and His Pulpit Occupied By Rev. Charles Merrill, of Beloit—Young Peoples' Meetings.

A very large congregation greeted Dr. Galusha Anderson Sunday morning. His text was in 20:15. "Woman Why Weepst Thou?" and he said in substance:

On this beautiful Sunday morning a woman stood, and would not be comforted. Her best friend was dead—he had rescued her from a degraded life. Notice first the evidences of Mary's love for Christ. Out of the depths of her poverty she bought spices to properly embalm Jesus' body. Are we willing to show our love in that way. Christ always goes before us and rolls away the stones for us. Mary goes and tells Peter and John. John saw several things which Peter did not see and he believed that Christ had risen from the dead. Mary shows her love by her tears. She thought he was dead and had been taken away, and now when he speaks to her she does not know him. She thinks him to be the gardener. She speaks to him and her language shows her love for him. Now he calls her by name and she knows him and worships him. He would not let her touch him until she had fully understood that he had risen from the dead. Notice now that Christ first revealed himself to a woman. She has suffered most and now receives the greatest honor.

He revealed himself to Mary Magdalene first, because she needed him most. She had been a spiritual wreck and Christ saved her and lifted her up. He treated her in this loving way just as he did Peter. Are you impulsive? Just take courage for Jesus comes to those who need him most.

Again, notice that the Lord is always with us and we do not always know it. Wherever you are he is with you to help you in all things. Again, see that Mary received a great deal more than she looked for. She found, not a dead body, but a living Saviour. He always gives us a hundred times more than we ask for. He is always with us to bless us more than we deserve or even expect.

In the evening Dr. Anderson preached from the text found in Matt. 22:42. "What Think Ye of Christ? Who is Son is He." He said in part:

The chief men of Israel were against Christ. Jesus asked them this great question and it is just as vital tonight to us. Look at the historical facts about Christ as given by the gospels. What did Jesus teach concerning sin? He had never been taught in the great schools, but what did he say about sin? He said that out of the heart proceeded all the forms of sin.

What did he teach about God? Unlike the definitions of men, he taught that God is our father.

Notice what he taught about the brotherhood of man. Men made distinctions on classes among men. Christ taught that there was an equality among men—a brotherhood.

Notice how Christ taught. He used the common language of the common people. He illustrated his subjects by the common things of life. He preached to the poor.

Notice the testimony that he bore about himself. See the evidence of consciousness. He knew about his own life. He defied men to commit him of sin. The great men of all ages confessed their sinfulness, but Christ said that he was sinless.

He testified to his relation with The Father. He claimed equal honors with The Father. He claimed that he was the Son of God. No man would have dared to say that. He was not a fanatic. If he was a god man, he was more than that. He was the Son of God.

His influence upon the world and civilization has never been equalled, and he did it all in three years. Notice Jesus' conduct when disaster stared him in the face. He declared that his death on the cross would serve to draw all men to him, and he raised a memorial to that fact. The Lord's Supper testifies to the death of Jesus upon the cross. "Do it in remembrance of me."

Now if we know by this testimony that Jesus is the son of God, we ought, in our worship, to give Him implicit obedience. We all need such an almighty Saviour.

Do you want to be saved? The angels or anyone else cannot save you Jesus, the son of man who knoweth all our weaknesses; Jesus, the Son of God, who hath all power can save you. Come to Him.

Rev. Dr. Ince of Quincy, Ill., will preach next Sunday.

The Y. P. S. C. E. meeting Sunday evening was led by Miss Elizabeth Palmer. The subject was "Putting Religion Into Our Daily Tasks."

The young people of the Baptist church will have an excursion up the river on Monday night, August 9. The Y. M. C. A. band will furnish the music.

PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR ILL.

Rev. Mr. Pence's Pulpit Filled By Rev. Charles Merrill of Beloit.

The pastor, Rev. E. H. Pence, being sick, Rev. Charles Merrill occupied the pulpit at the Presbyterian church yesterday. He spoke from the text, "Which hope we have as a sure anchor of the soul, both sure and steadfast, and which entereth into that within the veil."—Hebrews, 6:19.

The first thing that Christ tried to get into a man's heart when he was working here upon earth, was hope. God says in His work that this hope is a divine power and necessity to hold a man true and clear and firm. And man by his experience says it is a divine help, and a necessity also, to save man.

To what are you anchored? Don't make the mistake in your spiritual life of anchoring to yourself. A man enters the christian life, and makes a profession of his faith; hope springs up in his heart, and then when he has made that profession he gradually slackens his zeal and his work, till at last he does nothing to prove that he has a hope and that he is sincere in faith. He has made the mistake of trusting in his own faith, and thus having no hold on that which is out and beyond and above, he sinks with every wind and wave.

Don't make the mistake of anchoring to another person. The humiliation and overthrow of many a man has resulted from this mistake.

Don't anchor your faith to any cold system of philosophy. The system of Plato was magnificent, but the Greek Christians made the mistake of trying to anchor christianity to that iceberg of paganism, and the result was that it helped to paganize christianity instead of christianizing paganism.

Are you anchoring yourself to the covenants, the ordinances, the assemblies of the visible church? That is not sufficient. The visible church is itself temporary. How, then, can it be an anchorage for an eternal hope? "If I can't anchor to myself, if I can't anchor to another, if I can't anchor to any system devised by men, nor to the visible church, where shall I place my welfare in eternity?" There is the Rock of Ages, the divine Christ. Upon that rock and in that holy place and upon that throne of God I fix the anchor of my hope, sure and steadfast, and I say with one who has truthfully said:

"I leave it all with Jesus, day by day. Faith can firmly trust him, come what may. Hope has dropped her anchor, found her rest in the calm, sure haven of His breast."

MARKET DAY A BIG FEATURE

Beloit Expects to Start Her Sale Day Experiment With a Boom

Beloit is planning on a big time on the occasion of its first market day. Elaborate preparations have been made for the entertainment of the large crowds of farmers who have already assured the various committees that they would be present with numerous exhibits. For their entertainment several good speakers have been engaged to give short talks on the old "Haymarket" square on the west side, and the programme of sports has been arranged.

A liberal list of prizes has been offered for stock, grain and vegetable exhibits.

SIX CARS RUN FOR A TRIAL

Janesville People to Show By Their Patronage Whether They Want Them.

The citizens of Janesville are to say for themselves whether or not six street cars shall be operated on the local line in place of four. Superintendent Cummins says he will try the running of six cars on the line for a time, in order to see whether or not the plan is a paying one, and if not the extra cars will be taken off.

"If the people show their appreciation of the running of six cars by their patronage," remarked Superintendent Cummins, "then we will commence the running of the cars at fifteen minute intervals."

ELEVEN CENTURIES THIS YEAR

Orion Sutherland Pumps Another Hundred Miles with J. G. De Long.

Orion Sutherland made his eleventh century run this season by wheeling to Belvidere and back yesterday. J. Glenn De Long accomplished his fifth century run this season, at the same time. They left the city at 6:30 a. m. and went by way of Beloit, returning at 5:20 p. m. The fact that the southeast wind which they faced most of the way down had changed by afternoon to a northerly breeze, that they were obliged to pump against all the way back, afforded them much food for improving conversation.

JANESVILLE CAMPERS ARE FEW

Delavan Lake Has Many Chicago People This Year—Sunday Crowds.

Janesville campers are lacking at Delavan this year, but the lake resorts are beginning to draw heavily from Chicago. Several parties of Janesville people took Sunday dinner at the lake and found 500 guests ahead of them in the Highland Park dining hall.

Milestones on the Road to Health

The recovery of digestion, and the resumption of activity by the liver, bowels and kidneys are milestones which mark our progress on the road to health. They steadily become perceptible when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is used by the invalid. Nothing so surely and expeditiously consumes the distance to the desired goal. As no bodily function can suffer interruption without impairing the general health of the system, so the system can never acquire perfect vigor, health's synonym, until that function be actively resumed. Take, for instance, digestion, a suspension of which is invariably rectified by the Bitters. If the organs upon which it develops grow weak, biliousness, constipation, headache, poverty of blood and a hundred other symptoms supervene, which indicate unmistakably the beneficial general influence of dyspepsia. The disappearance of all these symptoms, through the use of the Bitters, show with what thoroughness it removes their cause.

FAIRFIELD GRAIN IS IN SHOCK

Harvesting Well Advanced—Potato Crop Does Not Promise Big Returns.

Fairfield, Aug. 2—Nearly all the grain is in shock. The potato crop does not promise well in this vicinity. Miss Annie Horne transacted business in Janesville on Wednesday. Eugene Serl has purchased a new road wagon. South Water street was the scene of another excitement this week. While Miss Mina Catter was driving in that vicinity, her horse was frightened and became unmanageable, upsetting the buggy, and throwing her to the ground. Her collar bone was broken, and she was otherwise bruised, but is getting along nicely. The horse and buggy were more or less demoralized.

The addressing, folding, inclosing, sealing and stamping of five thousand circulars, with postage, will cost at least $65, whether the circular is good or bad. Notwithstanding this fixed charge, some strive to save a dollar or two on the cost of printing, although the goods advertised are to be judged by the character of the printing, just as a house is judged by the character of its salesmen. ## WILL WORK TOGETHER.

The positive announcement from London that President McKinley's commissioners have been assured of the willingness of Great Britain and France to co-operate with the United States in an international bimetallic conference gives great encouragement to the friends of true bimetalism and is correspondingly depressing on the friends of silver monometalism—Mr. Bryan and his followers. Co-operation of the United States, Great Britain, and France in the calling of an international conference on this subject will insure the co-operation of all the leading nations, and the explicit terms in which the co-operation of England is assured gives great encouragement as to the prospect for an early conference on this subject. The further fact that it is proposed to hold this conference in the United States adds greatly to the interest in this subject, and if the conference can be held here the detailed information which it will give to the people will be received with great interest.

LESSONS TAKEN TO HEART.

The people of the United States have evidently profited by the lessons of the hard times during the last four years. The New York Sun (democratic) published, a few days since, a large number of telegrams from various parts of the country, especially the farming communities of the west, indicating that the farmers in every locality are taking advantage of the good prices which they are getting for their crops to pay off their mortgages. In every part of the country farm mortgages and other obligations of that character are being rapidly reduced in number and size, and with the splendid prospect and prices in sight, the coming year will doubtless see a large reduction in the indebtedness about which the calamity shriekers have indicated such distress.

What the tin pail crank was in 1888 the sugar mania bids fair to be in 1897. It took the tin plate man six years to learn that tin could be made in this country. Will it take the sugar howler as long to realize that the American beet raiser is a man worth backing? The sugar schedule is one of the most important in the entire Dingley law as far as northwestern interests are concerned.

Two thousand people paid a dollar apiece in California the other day to be told by Mr. Bryan that times were hard and that the country needed forty-four cent dollars and a young president with a loud voice. If the common sense people of California didn't know a great deal better, the Eldorado of the West would be in a very bad way.

A sheep farmer sold his wool clip of 10,000 pounds for $1,100 more this year than he did in 1896 and is willing to vote for the McKinley brand of prosperity once or twice more.

The rise of ten cents a bushel in wheat nets this country $50,000,000 this year. If the Klondike does as well for Canada, a good many people will be surprised.

The silver dollar is now worth about 44 cents when melted and Professor Osin's theory about the relation between wheat and silver is worth considerably less.

New York officials of the Mexican railways are said to be wondering what they can do with the silver they are compelled to take.

The "apotheosis of the organs of speech and attempted deification of the winds of heaven," as the Bryan campaign was dubbed, seems less likely to play a return date.

Some towns in Rock county, notably the town of Milton and the town of Rock, are fairly up to date on road building. There are more, however, where the taxpayers cannot see that it costs less to make one trip to market than to make three.

Instead of the consolidation of eight of ten of the leading trusts there seems to have been a consolidation of unlimited gall with unparalleled imagination.

McKinley Summons Reid.

New York, Aug. 2.—The President, immediately on learning of the arrival of Jubilee Ambassador Whitelaw Reid, telegraphed an invitation to himself and wife to make a visit to Mr. and Mrs. McKinley at their country retreat on Lake Champlain, beginning next Saturday. Later Mr. Reid will visit John Sherman, the secretary of state. One or two pretended interviews with Mr. Reid were published immediately on his arrival, but they all have been repudiated. Mr. Reid absolutely refused to be interviewed.

Great Destruction by Floods.

Vienna, Aug. 2.—There is no abatement of the floods in western and upper Austria. The Danube continues to rise, and the danger is very great. At Linze, 100 miles west of Vienna, and at Mauthausen enormous damage has been done to property. A cloudburst is reported from Budweis, Bohemia, on the Moldau, and there has been extensive flooding in the outskirts of Ischl, a fashionable watering place on the Traun.

Dervishes Defeat the Jaalins.

Cairo, Aug. 2.—The Egyptian Intelligence department has received word of heavy tribal fighting up the Nile between the dervishes and the Jaalins. The dervishes, under one of the generals of the Khalifa, defeated the Jaalins in a pitched battle, and occupied Metemneh on July 1. The losses on both sides were very large. The Jaalins are said to have lost 2,000 killed.

Silk Concerns Fail.

New York, Aug. 2.—The Golden Rod Silk Company, of Paterson, N. J., has given notice of its failure, and a receiver has been appointed. The liabilities are $103,000; assets, about $75,000. The firm ascribes its losses and failure to continued labor troubles. The strikers some months ago retarded orders, causing a loss of trade and crippling of resources.

IS IT A TRIFLE?

That Common Trouble, Acid Dyspepsia or Sour Stomach.

Now Recognized as a Cause of Serious Disease.

Acid dyspepsia, commonly called heartburn or sour stomach, is a form of indigestion resulting from fermentation of the food. The stomach being too weak to promptly digest it, the food remains until fermentation begins, filling the stomach with gas, and a bitter, sour, burning taste in the mouth is often present. This condition soon becomes chronic and being an every day occurrence is given but little attention. Because dyspepsia is not immediately fatal many people do nothing for the trouble.

With a recent period a remedy has been discovered prepared solely to cure dyspepsia and stomach troubles. It is known as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and is now becoming rapidly used and prescribed as a radical cure for every form of dyspepsia.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been placed before the public and are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package. It is prepared by the Stuart Chemical Co., Marshall, Mich., and while it promptly and effectively restores a vigorous digestion, at the same time is perfectly harmless and will not injure the most delicate stomach, but on the contrary by giving perfect digestion strengthens the stomach, improves the appetite and makes life worth living. ## ONE MORE IN JAIL BUT TWO ESCAPE

HESS AND SAUNDERS ARE STILL AT LARGE.

They Fried Bricks Out of a Chimney Saturday Evening and Climbed Up on the Roof—Reward of $25 is Offered—G. F. Shattuck's Gold Watch is Stolen.

Jack Hess and William Saunders broke jail Saturday night and Harry Brown was jailed Sunday morning to help fill the vacancy.

Burt Shattuck was in the back room of his West Milwaukee street restaurant about 6:30 Sunday morning showing a colored hobo how to wash dishes. While he was busy Brown walked behind the cigar case, took a gold watch chain belonging to George F. Shattuck and made his escape. Shattuck discovered his loss five minutes later and called Officer John Brown who gave chase at once. Sheriff Acheson who has been north on business arrived in town on the 6:30 o'clock train just in time to join the pursuit.

A Chase Through Switch Yards.

The two officers went over railroad tracks, hills and ditches. Their man jumped on the vestibule but was put off and was finally caught by Officer Brown on Snips Hill. He gave his name as Harry Brown and was recognized as a man who has been hanging around town for the last three weeks. He claims Belvidere as his home. The watch and chain were not found on his person and it is supposed that he threw them away in his flight, although he stoutly maintains that he is innocent of the theft.

Jail Chimney An Exit.

Jack Hess and William Saunders, who broke jail Saturday night, got out through a chimney and probably caught a freight train in Milton for Iowa.

Sheriff Acheson was in Baraboo Saturday, serving papers, and Turnkey Sam Brown was away most of the forenoon on legal business. Hess and Saunders were the only prisoners on the lower floor of the south side of the jail. On that side the chimney is built so that it runs down to the floor and projects into the corridor a foot or eighteen inches. From the side of the chimney a sufficient number of bricks were removed to allow a man to crawl through, and a sheet iron ventilator was pried out and put in a convenient cell along with a mattress full of bricks. Turnkey Brown went into the corridor at 8 o'clock to lock Hess and Saunders up in their cells. Some one called him away. He returned in about twenty minutes and was surprised to find both birds had flown. They had crawled into the chimney and up on the inside to the roof, squeezing through beneath the iron bars and letting themselves down to the ground.

This Is His Fourth Escape.

Hess has broken jail three times before. He broke out of the Fond du Lac jail, where he was confined after being arrested for a burglary at Ripon. He escaped from the jail at Jefferson, where he was awaiting trial for burglary at Palmyra, and once before from the Rock county jail during Sheriff Ward's administration. He was arrested on the charge of burglarizing a second-hand store on North Main street. He was tried and convicted and the night before he was to have been sentenced he removed a big stone from the west end of the jail and made his escape.

In spite of his handiness at jail breaking, Hess has served three terms in the penitentiary. He is regarded as a very slippery thief; is strong and cunning, and used to boast that he could outrun any horse in Rock county.

Saunders From the East.

His partner, Saunders, is an eastern crook, and is considered a desperate character. Hess and Saunders were arrested at Beloit some two months ago. They were trying to dispose of some shoes, hats, etc. They were charged with stealing goods from the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul company's cars; with receiving stolen property and other counts.

A reward of $25 for the arrest of the two was announced by Sheriff Acheson today.

ECHO OF GOOD TIMES ABOUT THE COUNTRY

BUSINESS MEN, BANKERS AND FARMERS AGREE.

Deposits in Local Banks Show that Business is on a Firm Basis—Paper is Being Cut Down, and Few Accounts Are Overdrawn—Series of Local Interviews.

The outlook for good times has not been better in five years in this part of the state. Labor conditions are better; both railroads are putting on extra hands, and bank officials report a marked increase in the number of depositors. Many new accounts have been opened within the past few months, principally in the savings departments. These accounts are all small, and are made by laboring people. Accounts of business men show a slight increase, and the report is that new stocks are bought without as much recourse to discounting notes as usual.

Farm products of all kinds promise excellent crops, and farmers are making considerable progress in cutting down floating indebtedness. As an indication of the feeling through the county the following letter from Milton to the Milwaukee Sentinel is significant:

Milton, Wis., Aug. 1.—P. M. Green, cashier of the Bank of Milton, said: "Our business this year compared to that of a year ago, shows a large gain in deposits, and the general business of the bank has increased fully one-third. The deposits come from all classes, but more largely from capitalists whose confidence has been fully restored in the local banks, while a year ago they were inclined to take personal charge of their funds. Notes have been paid more promptly and in greater numbers than a year ago, and the demand for loans is light, being confined to small amounts on short time. Despite the low prices that prevailed for grain and tobacco last fall and winter, the farmers are in better condition financially, due to the fact that 75 per cent. of them are engaged in dairying and swine raising, which makes it possible for them to meet their living expenses and farm improvements from these sources when in years past they depended on grain and made payments once a year. A year ago many farmers were borrowing money, but at present few seek accommodations from the bank."

"Working people have no difficulty in securing employment at fair wages and the demand is in excess of the supply at present, but as a rule are living up to their incomes."

The proprietor of the leading general store in Milton says that their trade shows an increase, more customers pay cash, pay their accounts with greater promptitude, and there is a healthy tone to trade, but nothing in the nature of a boom.

W. H. Gates, cashier of the Exchange bank at Milton Junction, said: "The business of the bank compares favorably with that of one year ago, the deposits being about the same as at that time. Those of the merchants have not increased but there are fewer overdrawn accounts, and there have been a general cancellation of notes. The working class are making increased deposits in the savings department, and the general condition of farmers, as a class, is improving."

Old Settlers Meet Tomorrow.

CITY TAXES ARE MUCH LOWER

The Rate This Year Is But $15.63 Per Thousand.

Fifth ward people are not as happy as they should be over their tax rate. To be sure it is $1.38 a thousand less than last year, and $2.01 less than in 1895, but it is the highest in the city at that. The average for the city is $15.63 per thousand dollars, and the Fifth ward rate is $16.89. The rate for the city shows a handsome decrease in each ward as compared with last year and the year before. This year, as already stated, the average for the city is $15.63 for a thousand dollars. In 1896 it was $16.89, and in 1895, $18.81 on each $1,000. The average is $1.26 per $1,000 less this year than last. The tax rate in the various wards for this year and 1896 runs as follows:

VEREIN HAS SECOND OUTING

Janesville Germans Spend a Pleasant Sunday on the Shore of Rock River.

A boat load of members of the Bower City Verein went up the river with Captain Buchholz Sunday morning, and spent the day in the Parrish woods, just south of the Four Mile bridge on the west side of the river. An abundance of refreshments were stowed away in the baskets that filled the bow of the boat, and dinner was eaten under the trees. The excursion was the Bower City Verein's second annual outing, and President O. E. Herms and Secretary Brockhaus were kept busy seeing that nobody was neglected when the refreshments were passed around. Fifty children shared in the day's pleasure.

The Home of Dyspepsia.

San Francisco seems to be the natural home of dyspepsia. Physicians there say that 10 out of 12 of the inhabitants suffer from indigestion. The only explanation suggested is the fact that the climate allows fruit and vegetables to be had almost the year around, so that there is not the enforced change of diet that residents of other regions have.

WEEKS' SICKNESS.

Early Settler and a Man Well Known in the State—Had Served the City Repeatedly in Offices of Responsibility and Trust—Two Terms In Legislature.

Franklin Sheldon Lawrence, an early settler in Rock county and widely acquainted among the older residents of the state, passed away at 1:05 this morning. He had been ill about two weeks. He was employed as book keeper for a year or two and afterwards in the mercantile business till 1859. From 1860 to 1864 he was a clerk in the office of the secretary of state; during 1865 was connected with the Gazette office; was for one year teller of the Rock county bank; and was for a year or two in the insurance business. He was secretary of the Rock County Agricultural society for 1877 and 1878; as a member of the assembly in 1879 and 1880, and at the time of his death was secretary of the Early Settlers' club.

Mr. Lawrence married March 18, 1846, Miss Hannah M. Fuller, who died March 11, 1889. He leaves two children, Herbert J. and Ella L. Tenney. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and was esteemed highly by all who were brought in contact with him officially or personally. As the record of his public service shows, he was frequently singled out for positions of trust and responsibility and this trust was never betrayed. A circle of friends far broader than the limits of his city mourn his departure.

Bromley Gibberts' Story.

By ROBERT BARR.

CONTINUED.

Increasing in orders. He had a jubilant "we've done it at last" air that exasperated Shorely, who felt that he alone should have the credit. There had come no answer to the note he had sent Gibberts, so he went to the club in the hope of meeting him. He found Johnson and asked him if Gibberts had been seen there that day.

"No," said Johnson, "but I saw him yesterday, and what do you think he was doing? He was in a gunshop on the Strand buying cartridges for that villainous looking seven shooter of his. I asked him what he was going to do with a revolver in London, and he told me shortly it was none of my business, which struck me as so accurate a summary up of the situation that I came away without making further remark. If you want any more stories by Gibberts, you should look after him."

Shorely found himself rapidly verging into a state of nervousness regarding Gibberts. He was actually beginning to believe that the novelist meditated some wild action which might involve others in a disagreeable complication. Shorely had no desire to be accessory either before or after the fact. He hurried back to the office and there found Gibberts' belated reply to his note. He hastily tore it open, and the reading of it completely banished what little self control he had left:

DEAR SHORELY—I know why you want to see me, but I have so many affairs to settle that it is impossible for me to call upon you. However, have no fears. I shall stand by you without any gooding from you. Only a few days have elapsed since the publication of the story, and I did not promise the tragedy before the week was out. I leave for Channor Chase this afternoon. You shall have your pound of flesh and more. Yours, BROMLEY GIBBERTS.

Shorely was somewhat pale about the lips when he finished this scrawl. He flung on his coat and rushed into the street. Calling a hansom, he said: "Drive to Kidner's inn as quickly as you can. No. 15."

Once there, he sprang up the steps two at a time and knocked at Gibberts' door. The novelist allowed himself the luxury of a "man," and it was the "man" who answered Shorely's imperious knock.

"Where's Gibberts?"

"He's just gone, sir, in a hansom."

"Gone where?"

"To Euston station, I believe, sir. He's going into the country for a week, and I wasn't to forward letters, so I haven't his address."

"Have you an A B C?"

"Yes, sir. Step inside, sir. Mr. Gibberts was just looking up trains, sir, before he left."

"Shorely saw it was open at C, and looking down the column to Channor he found the train left in 20 minutes. Without a word he dashed down the stairs again. The "man" did not seem astonished. Queer fish sometimes came to see his master."

"Can you get me to Euston station in 20 minutes?"

The cabman shook his head as he said: "I'll do my best, sir, but we ought to have a good half hour."

The driver did his best and landed Shorely on the departure platform two minutes after the train had left.

"When's the next train to Channor?" demanded Shorely of a porter.

"Just gone, sir."

"The next train isn't gone, you fool. Answer my question."

"Two hours and 20 minutes, sir," replied the porter in a huff.

Shorely thought of engaging a special, but realized he hadn't money enough. Perhaps he could telegraph and warn the people of Channor Chase, but he did not know to whom to telegraph. Or, again, he thought he might have Gibberts arrested on some charge or other at Channor station. That, he concluded, was the way out, dangerous, but feasible.

By that time, however, the porter had recovered his equanimity. Porters cannot afford to cherish resentment, and this particular porter saw half a crown in the air.

"Did you wish to reach Channor before the train that's just gone, sir?"

"Yes; can it be done?"

"It might be done, sir," said the porter hesitatingly, as if he were on the verge of divulging a secret which would cost him his situation. He wanted the half crown to become visible before committing himself further.

"Here's half a sovereign if you can tell me how it can be done short of hiring a special."

"Well, sir, you could take the express that leaves at the half hour. It will take you 15 miles past Channor to Buley Junction; then in 17 minutes you can get a local back to Channor, which is due there three minutes before the down train reaches there—if the local is on time," he added when the goldpiece was safely in his pocket.

While waiting for the express Shorely bought a copy of The Sponge and once more read Gibberts' story on the way down. The third reading appalled him. He was amazed that he had not noticed before the deadly earnestness of the tone. We are apt to underrate or overrate the work of a man with whom we are personally familiar. Now for the first time Shorely seemed to get the proper perspective. The reading left him in a state of nervous collapse. He tried to remember whether or not he had burned Gibberts' letter. If he had left it on his table, what might not happen?

The local was five minutes late at the junction, and it crawled over the 15 miles back to Channor in a most exasperating way, losing time with every mile. At Channor he found the London train had come and gone.

"Did a man get off in a long ulster and—"

"For Channor Chase, sir?"

"Yes. Has he gone?"

"Oh, yes, sir. The dogcart from the Chase was here to meet him, sir."

"How far is it?"

"About five miles by road, if you mean the Chase, sir."

"Can I get a conveyance?"

"I don't think so, sir. They didn't know you were coming, I suppose, sir."

But if you take the path down by the church you can get there before the cart, sir. It isn't more than two miles from the church. You'll find the path a bit dirty, sir, but not worse than the road. You can't miss the way, sir, and you can send for your luggage."

It had been raining and was still drizzling. A strange path is sometimes difficult to follow, even in broad daylight, but a wet, dark evening adds tremendously to the difficulty. Shorely was a city man and quite unused to the eccentricities of country lanes and paths. He first mistook the gleaming surface of a ditch for a footpath and only found his mistake when he was up to his waist in water. The rain came on heavily again and added to his troubles. After wandering through muddy fields for some time he came to a cottage where he succeeded in engaging a guide to Channor Chase.

The time he had lost in wandering through the fields would, Shorely thought, allow the dogcart to arrive before him, and such he found to be the case. The man who answered Shorely's imperious summons to the door was surprised to find a wild-eyed, unkempt, bedraggled individual, who looked like a lunatic on a tramp.

"Has Mr. Bromley Gibberts arrived yet?" he asked without preliminary talk.

"Yes, sir," answered the man. "Is he in his room?"

"No; he has just come down after dressing and is in the drawing room."

"I must see him at once," gasped Shorely. "It is a matter of life and death. Take me to the drawing room."

The man in some bewilderment led him to the door of the drawing room, and Shorely heard the sound of laughter from within. Thus ever is comedy and tragedy intermingled. The man threw the door open, and Shorely entered. The sight he beheld at first dazzled him, for the room was brilliantly lighted.

He saw a number of people, ladies and gentlemen, all in evening dress and all looking toward the door with astonishment in their eyes. Several of them, he noticed, had copies of The Sponge in their hands. Bromley Gibberts stood before the fire and was very evidently interrupted in the middle of a narration.

"I assure you," he was saying, "that is the only way by which a story of the highest class can be sold to a London editor."

He stopped as he said this and turned to look at the intruder. It was a moment or two before he recognized the dapper editor in the bedraggled individual who stood abashed at the door.

"By the gods," he cried, waving his hand, "speak of the editor and he appears. In the name of all that's wonderful, Shorely, how did you come here? And have your deeds at last found you out and meted you your deserts? Have they ducked you in a horse pond? I have just been telling my friends here how I sold you that story which is making the fortune of The Sponge. Come forward and show yourself, Shorely, my boy."

"I would like a word with you," stammered Shorely.

"Then have it here," said the novelist. "They all understand the circumstances. Come and tell them your side of the story."

"I warn you," said Shorely, pulling himself together and addressing the company, "that this man contemplates a dreadful crime, and I have come here to prevent it."

Gibberts threw back his head and laughed loudly.

"Search me," he cried. "I am entirely unarmed, and, as every one here knows, among my best friends."

"Goodness," said one old lady, "you don't mean to say that Channor Chase is the scene of your story and where the tragedy is to take place?"

"Of course it is," said Gibberts. "Didn't you recognize the local color? I thought I described Channor Chase down to the ground, and did I not tell you you were all my victims? I always forget some important point when telling a story. Don't go yet," he said as Shorely turned away, "but come and tell your story. Then we will have each man's narrative, after the style of Wilkie Collins."

But Shorely had had enough, and in spite of strong invitations to remain he departed out into the night, cursing the eccentricities of literary men.

THE END.

Biggest Fire Engines.

The two biggest fire engines in the world are in Liverpool. These are the most powerful fire engines known, throwing 1,800 gallons of water a minute and a jet 140 feet high. The force with which the water is ejected from them may be estimated from the fact that the jet is "warranted to kill a man at 50 feet."

ARTHUR S. HARDY.

dier, an author and an editor. He was born in Boston Aug. 13, 1847, and was graduated at West Point. After a service of 18 months as second lieutenant he resigned from the army and traveled and studied abroad for several years. Later he went to Iowa college as professor of civil engineering and afterward accepted the chair of mathematics at Dartmouth. Professor Hardy has been quite active as a writer. Among his best known novels are "Passe Rose," "The Wind of Destiny" and "But Yet a Woman." He has also been associate editor of The Cosmopolitan Magazine.

make his bow to the public as an author. He has written a complete biography of his distinguished father, and it will be brought out in this country next fall. Beyond this he has done little to claim special distinction, though the mere fact that he is the son of the greatest poet of the Victorian era would prevent him from dropping into obscurity.

The Wife of General Garcia.

Mrs. Calixto Garcia, the wife of the Cuban general who has been making things so interesting for Weyler of late, is living quietly and safely in New York city with her younger children.

MRS. GARCIA.

Naturally she is quite prominent in the Cuban colony of that city, but few people outside of the junta even know of her existence. Mrs. Garcia knows from personal experience all the hardships and horrors of war, for she followed her husband for two years during the previous revolution, known as "the ten years' war." Mrs. Garcia hears from her husband about once a month and longs to be with him in the field, but cannot leave her family.

A Remarkable Cure of Chronic Diarrhoea.

In 1862, when I served my country as a private in Company A, 16th Pennsylvania Volunteers, I contracted chronic diarrhoea. It has given me a great deal of trouble ever since. I have tried a dozen different medicines and several prominent doctors without any permanent relief. Not long ago a friend sent me a sample bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after that I thought and took a 50-cent bottle; and now I can say that I am entirely cured. I cannot be thankful enough to you for this great Remedy, and recommend it to all suffering veterans. If in doubt write me. Yours gratefully, HENRY STEINBERGER, Alleghen, Pa. Sold at C. D. Stevens' pharmacy, corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy always affords prompt relief. Sold at C. D. Stevens' pharmacy, corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

It is always gratifying to receive testimonials for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and when the endorsement is from a physician it is especially so. "There is no more satisfactory or effective remedy than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Dr. R. E. Robey, physician and pharmacist, of Olney, Mo.; and as he has used the Remedy in his own family and sold it in his drug store for six years, he should certainly know. For sale at C. D. Stevens' pharmacy, corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

Which costs most, a sick baby, or a package of Pearl-line? Without the Pearl-line, there's always the prospect of sickness, and perhaps worse, for your baby or for any other baby. It comes from nursing bottles that are imperfectly washed. This is a source of infant trouble that can't be watched too closely. Pearl-line will set your mind at rest. Nothing washes them so thoroughly as Pearl-line. One of the largest makers of nursing bottles sends out circulars with his goods, recommending Pearl-line for washing. He is wise, for milk in any form cannot adhere to anything, if washed with Pearl-line.

ELASTIC STARCH has been before the people of the United States for twenty-three years and is without doubt the greatest starch invention of the Nineteenth Century. Last year its sale reached the unprecedented number of twenty million packages. It is prepared upon scientific principles by men who have years of practical experience in fancy laundrying. It makes ironing easy, restores old summer dresses to their natural whiteness, and imparts to linen a beautiful and lasting finish. It is the only starch manufactured that is perfectly harmless, containing neither arsenic, alum, or any other substance injurious to linen, and can be used even as a baby powder.

German Foreign Minister.

Bernhardt von Bulow, Germany's new minister of foreign affairs, is probably the youngest man ever chosen for that important post, but in spite of the fact that he is only 47 years of age his career has been a brilliant one, and no surprise is expressed respecting his selection for the high office. This Von Bulow is the son of the late Minister of

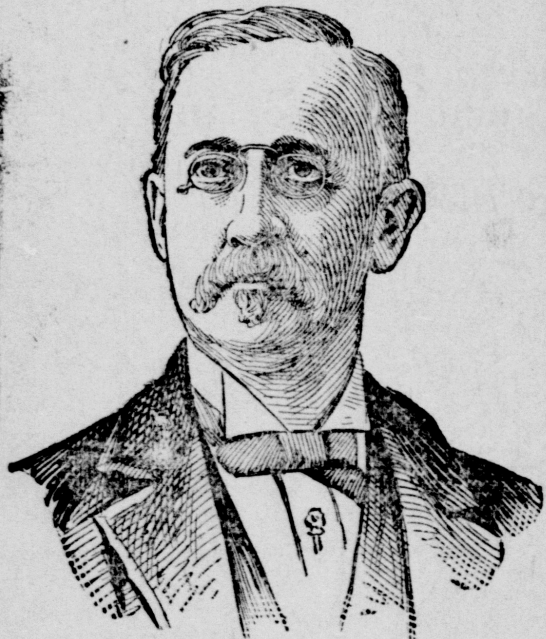

BERNHARDT VON BULOW.

State Von Bulow. Young Von Bulow served in the Franco-German war and has been attached to the German embassies in Athens, Dresden, Paris and St. Petersburg. Some years ago he was mixed up in a scandal over a woman, which caused his temporary retirement from diplomatic life.

He Wrote "Mollie, Darling."

Almost everybody in the south knows Colonel Will S. Hays either personally or by sight, for he has been for years a newspaper man and a steamboat captain, but it is as a writer of popular songs that he has gained a reputation that is international. One million people have bought copies of "Mollie, Darling."

WILL S. HAYS.

Some of his other compositions which have been sung in many lands are "Evangeline," "Nora O'Neill" and "Take This Letter to My Mother." His war songs, such as "Union Forever" and others, are also well known. Colonel Hays was born in Louisville in 1837.

The Original Marks.

The man whose name Harriet Beecher Stowe borrowed for the character of Marks the Lawyer in her "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is living quietly and in retirement in Kansas City. He is Judge

JUDGE ABRAHAM MARKS.

Abraham Marks, and he admits that he is the original Marks. Mrs. Stowe never saw him until several years after the book was written. Judge Marks is a courtly gentleman of the old school, of dignified and gentle manners. He says that the character of Marks the Lawyer is preposterous and not at all like himself or any other lawyer that ever lived.

He Teaches Financiering.

Not all the Seligmans are bankers. At least one member of that great family of millionaires is a college professor.

PROFESSOR E. R. A. SELIGMAN.

He is Edwin R. A. Seligman. But he has not been able to get very far away from hereditary influences, for the position which he holds in Columbia university is that of professor of political economy and finance. So you see that, although he is not practicing financiering, he is teaching it. Professor Seligman is only 36 years old and has occupied his present position for six years.

Just a Supposition.

"Of course you can take a hint," she said, looking at him thoughtfully. He couldn't, and she knew it, and that's why she said it. It wouldn't have been necessary otherwise.

"Of course," he replied. "Have you been hinting at anything?"

"Oh, dear, no," she answered, with suspicious haste. "I was just thinking, you know."

"Thinking of what?"

"Why, suppose—just suppose, you know—that I was a hint."

After pondering the matter deeply for several minutes he decided to take her.—Chicago Post.

A Father's Observation.

"I saw young Killduff in the parlor with Mildred as I came by the door," said Mildred's father to her mother, "and I am convinced that there is no love lost between them."

"Why, I thought they were very fond of each other," replied the solicitous mamma.

"Well, there's no room between them for any love to get lost in," explained Mildred's papa.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Ceaseless Effort.

Man labors just from sun to sun, But woman's work is never done, Because she toils from dawn to dawn, To take in all that's going on.—Chicago Record.

A FEATURE OF THE CASE.

She—You are in love and are thinking of marriage—but love dies.

He—That is so. And the woman remains.—Le Monde Comique.

The Worst of It.

A mortal man can never guess How sick he's been until He's really well of his distress And sees the doctor's bill.—L. A. W. Bulletin.

Her Narrow Escape.

He knew she was a flirt, and he had been away three or four months. "Tell me," he said, "how many men have you kissed while I was away?"

"Not one, dear," she replied, and then she added to herself: "I'm glad he didn't ask me how many men he had kissed me."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Clear Reasoning.

He—How do you know your father will give his consent?

She—He has often said that you are the last man in our set to whom he would give me, and he has sent all the others about their business as they asked for me.—Detroit Free Press.

His Usual Pose.

"Julia had her husband's photograph taken with his head stuck in a newspaper."

"Why did she do that?"

"She said that was the way he always looked to her when he was at home."—Chicago Record.

He Had to Hide.

"I understand that Slasher worked so hard on his new novel that he had to entirely seclude himself."

"I hadn't missed him until lately."

"No; he didn't seclude himself until after the book came out."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

His Yearn.

"Shay, m' (hie) frien!" said Lushington, after vainly fumbling with his latch-key for 20 minutes.

"Well," returned the passer-by.

"Have you (hie) got such a shing as a spare key (hie) hole about you?"—Judge.

Opportunity Comes.

Mrs. Peck—If I had my life to go over again I wouldn't marry the best man alive.

Literally True.

Mr. Tenspot—It's just too swell for any use.

Mr. Tenspot—A boil.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Quite Likely.

"Isn't Blewberry just a bit weak-minded?"

"Yes, I think that is the reason why he is so headstrong."—Indianapolis Journal.

Good Printing...

Is like good painting—it demands and obtains a second glance. The second glance leads to thought about and knowledge of the thing portrayed, and then on to the artist or advertiser.

The kind of printing as well as the kind of painting that it pays to do and to have done is that which obtains this "second glance." Plenty of the other kind!

We are PRINTERS. Our work obtains glances of admiration, and thus leads on to the end desired. We don't do the "other kind." Put our job room to the test.
